

ACCOUNT MANAGER, Corporate & Public Affairs

Wilson Hartnell, Ireland's largest and one of the longest established and most awarded PR agencies in Ireland, has an exciting opportunity for an ambitious, creative and highly motivated Account Manager to join its Corporate & Public Affairs team.

At Wilson Hartnell, we're passionate about being a partner for our clients' growth. The position offers an excellent career opportunity to join a dynamic, growing, close-knit team working on an outstanding portfolio of Irish and international, private and public sector organisations.

Our highly talented people are creative communicators who bring energy, authenticity, and curiosity to their work every day.

We foster a supportive team working environment where the successful candidate will have the opportunity to experience career growth and development by acquiring new skills, and learning from leading experts both locally and through the Ogilvy and WPP networks.

At Wilson Hartnell, we welcome diverse skills and backgrounds to bring a fresh perspective to every client brief and a determination to deliver excellent results.

We encourage all applicants and are committed to providing an open and safe environment for everyone to thrive at Wilson Hartnell regardless of their age, gender, race, sexual orientation, ethnicity, disability, civil status, personality, thinking style or religious beliefs.

We firmly believe that a racially, ethnically, and culturally diverse workforce, where all perspectives are valued, leads to richer experiences for our people and better outcomes for our clients.

What we're looking for: We are seeking a confident, creative and highly capable communications professional with a track record of delivering successful corporate communication campaigns.

As well as having a real passion for the power of the craft of communications to have a positive impact on business objectives, the successful candidate will have the ability to analyse client business strategies and develop communication plans to deliver against them; have confidence in consulting to client teams; demonstrate outstanding project management skills; the ability to collaborate effectively with colleagues; and excellent people management skills.

A minimum of three years' experience in communications is required – ideally but not necessarily - within an agency environment.

Salary will be market related, reflecting the position, the level of experience required, as well as each candidate's individual skillset and capability.

Responsibilities will include:

- Planning and strategy development
- Client and project management
- Budget management
- Media relations
- Event management
- Social media management
- Influencer marketing
- Writing and Content creation

If you would like to join Ireland's leading communications agency, please send your CV to Alison MacDonald at alison.macdonald@ogilvy.com by close of business on 12 July, 2021.
